

H6-1

H6 · iteration 1 — wet wall west

H6 with the west wall worked harder: a bigger master shower room that swallows the old foyer, a family-size kids bath on W2, a quiet chapel off the landing, and a square kids lobby that leaves the double room a clean box.

- Up the stair, the landing runs straight to the kids wing. The chapel door is on your right after two steps; the kids-wing door is at the far end, 1.6 m further on and facing the other way, so the two never meet.
- The master shower room now fills the whole strip between hers and the chapel: long 1.7 m walk-in shower under the side window, WC on W1, double basin, towel shelf. The suite hall is one straight run from the bedroom to its door.
- The kids bath is a real family bathroom on W2: tub, separate shower, double basin and WC, entered from the kids lobby so both kids rooms reach it the same way.
- The kids lobby is a small square-cornered room with four doors: wing door, double room, play room and bath. No angled bite: the double room is a clean 4 × 4 m box with a 2 m wardrobe wall.
- Everything else is H6: bedroom + lounge behind a 1.65 m sliding wall, lounge shower on E1 with its hidden landing door, stacked laundry + kitchenette at the landing, hers with island and a curved corner, play room with the den over the kids bath.

What changed vs H6, and why

- Master shower room 5.7 → 7.1 m²: the round foyer and the suite-hall tail are gone (Daniel's red mark-up); the room takes their place, so the suite hall stops at the shower-room door instead of running past it.
- Kids bath 5.2 → 7.6 m²: it grows north into the old shower-room corner and east to the kids lobby (Daniel's blue mark-up), gaining a separate shower next to the tub.
- Prayer room 4.9 → 3.3 m²: still an inner room, now a plain 1.9 × 1.95 m rectangle (no apse) with a bench for four facing the icon wall on the east. Its door is in the landing's side wall near the stair, away from the kids door (yellow mark-up).
- Kids lobby: the 45° wall into the double room is gone. The lobby is a straight 1.4 × 2.05 m room just south of the landing; every door in it is square.
- Double room: a clean rectangle with a 2 m wardrobe on the west wall, desks under the street window and the twin beds on the east wall, as before. It is 15.9 → 14.9 m², 1 m² smaller than in H6, because its west wall moves 0.7 m east to make room for the lobby.
- Play room 14.6 → 15.9 m²: it takes the 0.7 m strip the double room gave up, as a niche for book shelves now and the third child's desk at stage 3.
- Hers keeps its curve, now as a soft rounded corner at the end of the suite hall instead of a quarter-circle cut, so hers gets back about 0.4 m².
